My name is Hillton Fontineli Nunes Dantas, and I was born in the United States. However, the majority of my formative educational experiences took place abroad. I had the privilege of studying in Canada and Brazil, which afforded me the opportunity to become proficient in multiple languages.

My main skill is making art, I made commissions for family and friends as gifts. Among my expertise, I can draw, paint, and sculpt clay relatively well. Most recently, I've even developed a knack for digital art and design. Additionally, I've done a few flash animations. Some of my work is available in the links below.

As of late, I have successfully completed my final year of high school in the United States. Currently, I am pursuing my higher education, and provided my plans unfold as intended, I will graduate in 2024. In the past, I have worked as part of a wrapping associate. During the summer of 2021, I participated in many labor-intensive activities during this time, via both applying and oftentimes removing wrapping off of vehicles and other miscellaneous items.

Despite my expertise lying in the realm of fine arts, I am open to other occupations as well, and would likely be able to apply skills I have learned from art to other lines of work. For example, I am patient, and determined, and I take pride in making sure I do a good job. Furthermore, I understand that practice is necessary to reach my goals and I will keep a level head on stressful occasions.

If possible, I prefer contact via email, or through other instant messaging formats. However, I am also available over the phone.
